Daffodil GARDENS

FONTWELL • WEST SUSSEX • BN18 0QP

A stunning new development of just eight luxurious family homes in the West Sussex village of Fontwell

A STUNNING NEW DEVELOPMENT OF JUST EIGHT
LUXURIOUS
FAMILY HOMES
IN THE WEST
SUSSEX VILLAGE OF FONTWELL

Secluded, landscaped gardens and mature trees lend Daffodil Gardens a delightful, leafy aspect, whilst within, these properties reveal themselves to be homes of exceptional quality.

A place you'll truly be proud to call home.

MIDWAY BETWEEN CHICHESTER AND ARUNDEL – AN ENVIABLE LOCATION TO MAKE THE MOST OF WEST SUSSEX

Daffodil Gardens is brilliantly located for fast, effortless access to Chichester, Arundel and beyond to the beautiful West Sussex countryside and coastline.

Some four miles to the east, the skyline of the picturesque town of Arundel is dominated by its historic castle and stunning Roman Catholic cathedral. With a Norman keep and medieval gatehouse, the origins of the castle go as far back as the 11th century, whilst the cathedral's imposing French-Gothic structure is a classic example of mid-Victorian architecture. Clustered in the streets leading up to these iconic landmarks, Arundel offers an eclectic and utterly charming mix of independent shops and eateries, augmented by some of the UK's favourite high street brands.

Chichester is equally accessible. A six-mile drive from Fontwell, this beautifully preserved cathedral city is a hotbed of culture, performing arts and, with several marinas, one of the south coast's foremost maritime destinations. Settled since Roman and Anglo Saxon eras, and a leading market town from Norman and medieval times to the present day, Chichester offers a thriving array of retail, hospitality and leisure amenities in a charming, historic setting.

Located on the southern fringes of the South Downs, Fontwell is also perfectly placed to explore some of the UK's most spectacular countryside and shorelines. Less than five miles to the south, an expanse of glorious coastal scenery awaits, from the family-friendly resorts of Bognor Regis and Worthing to unspoilt beaches at Middleton-on-Sea, Climping and Elmer.

Venture just a mile to the north of Fontwell and you're in the foothills of the South Downs National Park. Some 670 square kilometres of chalky ridges and escarpments, it's a breathtaking, timeless landscape that stretches from Winchester in the west to the iconic Seven Sisters cliffs at Eastbourne. Beloved by walkers, cyclists and horse riders, the 100-mile South Downs Way was recently named one of the top ten most beautiful hiking trails in the world – a fitting accolade for a singularly spectacular setting.

For all its landmark destinations, perhaps the real joys of West Sussex lie in its quieter highlights – from mile upon mile of delightfully unspoilt countryside to countless picturesque towns and villages. From the half-timbered houses of Steyning to the cobble-stoned charms of Rye; from the idyllic waterside tranquility of Bosham to the rural seclusion of Telscombe, wherever you are in the county, you're never far from a pretty village centre and a rustic country inn.

Fontwell itself is best known for its racecourse, established in 1924 on the site of legendary trainer and jockey Alfred Day's training gallops. Hosting up to 24 races a year, the course's figure of eight design is the only National Hunt track of its kind in the UK. The area's equestrian heritage is still very much in evidence, alongside market gardening, which has thrived on the county's fertile soils for generations. Despite local evidence of settlement dating back to the Iron Age, the village has much more recent origins, with most houses dating back to the early 20th century onwards.

Predominantly residential with a population of just over 2,000 people and characterised by a quiet, leafy affluence, Fontwell is the quintessential West Sussex village. Local amenities include a Waitrose convenience store and The Old Stables pub, with more shops, a GP practice and primary and secondary schools in nearby Eastergate and Westergate.

From an aesthetic perspective, all eight properties blend local vernacular style with cutting edge architectural flourishes – these are homes that have been designed to delight. As you would expect from Elivia Homes, traditional workmanship and hand-crafted detailing are front and centre – from exquisite artisan brickwork to an array of materials and finishes that effortlessly articulate quality without compromise. Generously spaced and uncrowded, the impression you get as you wander through the development is of seclusion and unhurried, easeful living.

A management company will be set up to maintain all communal areas, roads and open spaces. A yearly charge is payable, please ask the sales agent for details.

HOMES THAT CALM THE SENSES

Whether you choose the four- or five-bed configuration, the internal space of all eight houses is impressive and offers contemporary comfort in abundance.

On the ground floor, pairs of French doors (plots 1 & 2) and bi-fold doors (plots 3 - 8) open onto large but private gardens. Adjoined by spacious utility rooms, kitchens are lavishly appointed and generously sized, boasting a full suite of high-end integrated appliances and elevated by stunning hand-built cabinetry and worktops.

Enjoying dappled, leafy aspects onto the landscaped surroundings, bedrooms have been meticulously hand-crafted and exquisitely finished to create havens of restful repose. Luxuriously appointed en-suites adjoin not only the spacious master bedroom, but also a further bedroom, with an additional family bathroom for good measure.

As with all cloakrooms and bathrooms, kitchen floors and walls are enhanced with luxurious Porcelanosa tiling, whilst interiors throughout have been harmoniously decorated to create tranquil environments of effortlessly comfortable relaxation.

Everything, from fixtures and fittings to interior surfaces and textures, has been thoughtfully specified and selected to please the eye and calm the senses.

This image is from a previous Elivia Homes developments, specifications may vary to Daffodil Gardens.

With every home we build we set out to surpass expectations with external and internal specifications that truly set us apart...
